INTRODUCTION

Rowland Hall-St. Mark's was a dream realized in the gift of Brigham Young to Bishop Tuttle in 1882. The school continually changed, but her students involved and evolved traditions which were so much a part of her meaning. This is her history and the history of those who will yet write chapters of their own.

St. Margaret's Chapel has always heard voices in song, but the old light well has disappeared.

FRONT VIEW OF THE BUILDINGS

A BOARDING and DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS, under the care of the Episcopal Church. The school furnishes a delightful home, where the best care is taken of children. Superior Teachers are employed, and the course of instruction extends from the Kindergarten to College.

THE SALT LAKE PRINCIPAL OF ROWLAND HALL,

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

The original purpose has altered a little, but Rowland Hall-St. Mark's is now a school for boys as well as girls.

There must have been a physical fitness program.

Spring was ushered in with a rollicking May Day celebration.

It seems that, even then, Seniors were dramatis personae, but graduated after they briefly trod the boards.

The faculty was outstanding.

FACULTY

These people are gone, a closed chapter in an unfinished book. They have passed, but in their places are people like Mrs. Corr.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Corr

DEDICATION

She has given of herself, her time and her talents to make Rowland Hall-St. Mark's a school where the individual can grow as a student and as a person. For eighteen years she has selflessly dedicated herself to the students, so we now dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Elizabeth T. Corr, Principal and friend.

Mr. Peter Keating

He is the successor whom we welcome with hope for the future.

Because they have had more years as viewers of the schools' institutions and traditions, the seniors contribute most as leaders of the school.

Theirs is the task of adding their individual experience and knowledge to the success of group endeavors.

But the seniors cannot go-it-alone. They need the total effort of all students to make a success of extra-curricular activities.

Leading the other students, the CHOIR brings zest and beauty to the chapel service with the addition of their musical talents.

ACOLYTE

THE JUNIOR ACOLYTES: Vicky Gibbons, Keith Palmer, Jane Harrison, Duncan Gilmour, Karen Engstrom, and Malcolm Snedden.

Along with the great honor that comes upon being elected an ACOLYTE, there is a very sincere obligation involving the upholding of the moral standards of the school and its reputation. The acolytes are looked up to by the students as worthy and capable representatives of the student body.

THE SENIOR ACOLYTES: Jack Spear, Karen Lewis, Sue Haseltine, Rick Stevenson, Neena Diument, and Marvin Jones.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

Working together as representatives of the student body, the CHAPEL COMMITTEE aims for better communication and thus better understanding and fulfillment in the chapel service. Members are: Father Pete (advisor), Jeff Harris, Chris Zelenkov, Susie Kassel, Ann Buchman, Tom Bullen, Lindsay Amoss, Stuart Cohen, Sonja Youtz, Beth Fouts, Vicky Gibbons, Ron Rainger, and Andy Shott.

CRUCIFER

For all of us, the highest honor a student may receive is to be selected CRUCIFER. Each student writes a letter of recommendation and from these letters, Bishop Watson designates a senior boy and girl to carry the Cross. This year's girl crucifier, RAE ROBERTS, and boy crucifer, ANDY TUJIOS, have carried the Cross with humility and dignity. Their dedication has set a standard for all of us to aim for.

CHAPEL AND ALTAR GUILDS

As members of the CHAPEL AND ALTAR GUILDS, girls spend long hours doing everything from sweeping the floors to arranging flowers on the altar.

THE CHAPEL GUILD: Laurie Bradbury, Diane Clemow, Marleen Kassel, Ginna Bennett, Helen Hay, Jane Little, Rosalie Ricci, Shauna Roberts, Chris Burnham, Jann Hirschy, Cindy Homer, Beth Fouts, Lee Mallinckrodt, Sue Scott, Valli Gibbons, Anne Shrewsbury, Kathy Taylor, Ann Wallace, Nancy Hills, Jody Burns, and Bobbie Burns.

The JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS, Joni Williamson, Lynn Wehrli, Nedra Morgan, Sue Scott, and Candy Colb added pep and enthusiasm to the junior varsity basketball games.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Leading the student body in cheers and songs, the VARSITY CHEER-LEADERS made both home and away games more fun and exciting to watch. Marianne Harding, Patty Souvall, Neena Diumenti, Beth Wehrli, and Jane Harrison brought enthusiasm and originality into their routines.

MONTHS

This is what we have written during MONTHS of activity, study, and competition.

We ate. . .

SEPTEMBER

Early SEPTEMBER witnessed RHSM students flooding Millcreek Canyon for the HELLO DAY PICNIC. The Seniors provided lunch while the rest of the school provided entertainment in the form of impromptu, but inspired skits.

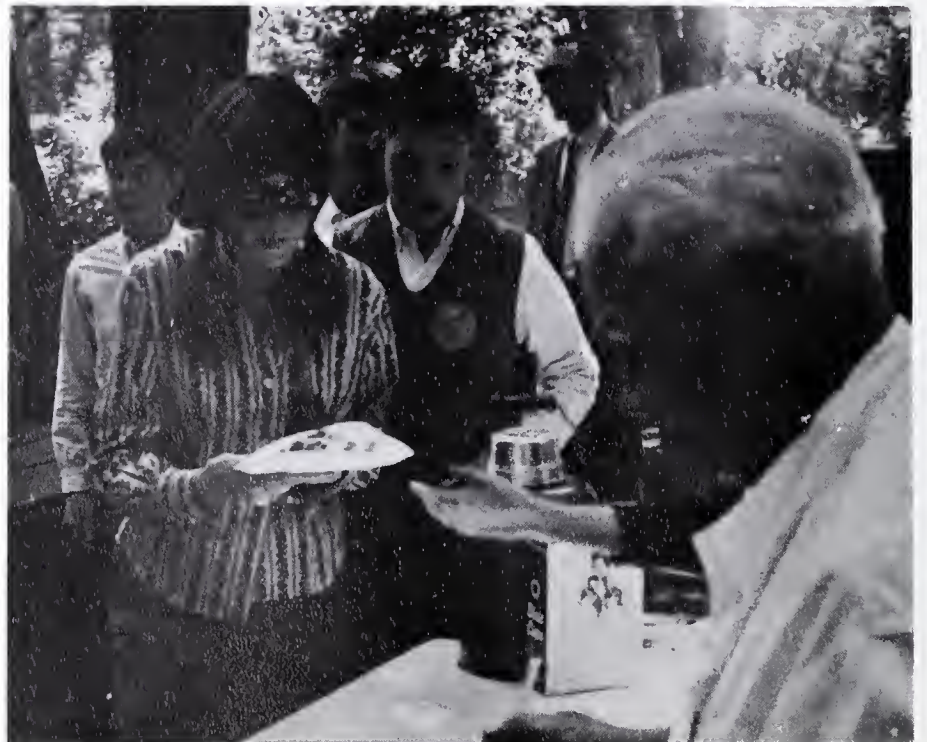

and ate. . .

Ah, the bus!

OCTOBER

During the BAZAAR, students turned their talents to money matters, and very successfully, too. The campus lawns and buildings were crowded with a variety of machines, concessions, and cafes, including a discotheque.

Catch me if you can.

Come with the wind.

A cake? Maybe this time.

Mmmm!

NOVEMBER

The students of RHMS presented Arthur Miller's play, THE CRUCIBLE as the all-school dramatic offering of the year.

DECEMBER

The Christmas season would not have been complete without the joy of giving. RHSM students enthusiastically entered into the Yuletide spirit by contributing to a needy family through the WELFARE COMMITTEE.

The Three Kings: Riley Carkeek, Keith Palmer, and Tom Bullen.

The beauty and joy of Christmas was brought to us in a special way by the CANDLE AND CAROL service. Both the choir and student players contributed their talents to a pageant retelling the story of the birth of Christ.

RHSM played its first annual HOMECOMING game against the St. Francis Padres. Although we lost the game, the dance afterwards was enough to buoy anyone's sinking spirits.

Win, Lions, win.

A flag ceremony begins the game.

A snooze in the snow and sun.

Strike?

FEBRUARY

Oh, my aching feet!

In early February, the Senior girls boarded the bus which was to take them to San Francisco, the site of the annual SENIOR TRIP. They were caught up in a round of sightseeing, excursions, theater going, and shopping in the beautiful city of the Golden Gates.

Oh, you beautiful doll!

Where to go?

Enjoying the view.

Resting by the roadside.

Queens of the road.

Before and after.

I have a feeling that we're being watched.

Sound off!

What's going on over there?

Happy days.

Who's behind those things?

MARCH

Easy does it there, boy.

APRIL

High atop the University Club, dancers swayed to soft music amid myriads of flowers. It was the JUNIOR PROM at last.

"There's a hole in the bucket."

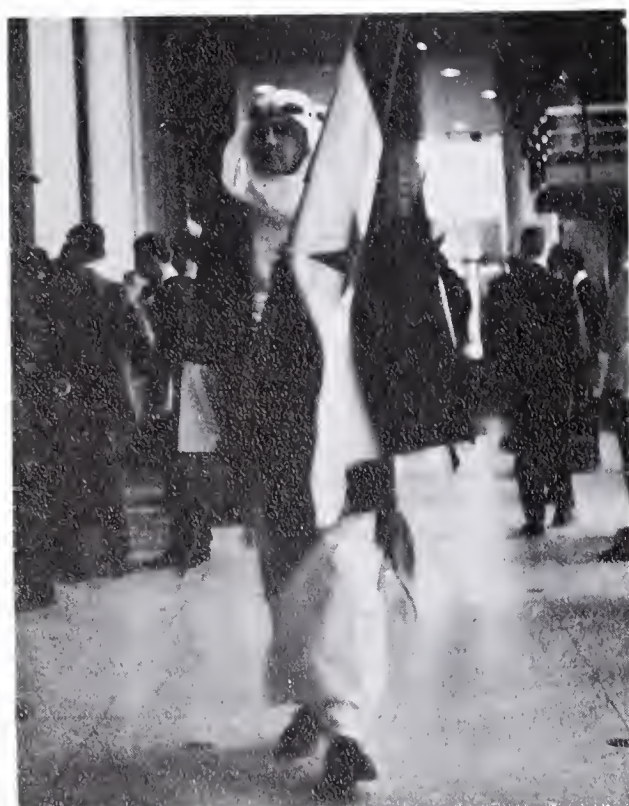

Both the AFS assembly and the MODEL UN contributed greatly to students' understanding of other countries and their customs.

MAY

With MAY came ELECTIONS and all the frenzied campaigning, tension, gratification, and disappointment of a race for office.

As the lights dimmed in the Lecture Hall of the Salt Lake Public Library, the Senior Class play began. Noel Coward's BLITHE SPIRIT provided an evening of laughter and entertainment for all who attended.

JUNE

They have gone, but something remains of each one in what they have been. GRADUATION is both an end and a beginning. It is the last sentence of one chapter and the first sentence of a new one.
